whiting. The intercourse was of the most courteous character.

On Tuesday the weather was bright and clear. The only spectators of the scene about to take place, were the men on the Dispatch and the Ls Favorita, and some ragged and dirty 'Cubans, in their fishing smacks, apparently intent upon fishing alone. At half-past eight, the gig came over from La Favorita to the Virginius, containing oarmen and a single officer, and as the latter stepped on deck, a petty officer and a half dozen men who had sto-d watch on the Virginius during the negotiation, went over dozen reen who had stood watch on the Viginius during the negotiation, went over the side and remained in dingy awaiting orders. Punctually as the bells on the Dispatch struck for nine and before the echo died away the American flag flew to the flag staff of the Viginius, and at the same moment, a boat containing Capt. Whiting and St. Mariax, put away from the Dispatch, and as they accended the accommodation ladder of the Virginius a single man on deck who proved to be Senor de La Camara, advanced and made a courteous salute to the officers, and then read their respective instructions and Captain de La Camara remarked that in obedience to the requirements of his govern-

Spanial of the property shall be tendered within the said term of six months from the date of his own vessel, having discharged, with becoming dignity, an unpleasant duty imposed upon him by his government. The tendered within the said term of six months from the date of said bond, whenever the raid Land Agents or their successors shall tender to the owner or controller thereof, in currency, the valuation sgreed upon for said property." See Georg's laws, 1866 page 70, for full order, and she had to be towed to see by the Dispatch. Both vessels left the harbor at 17. Mr., the Spanish flag being displayed by the fort as they passed. At 8 P. M. they were not by the naval tug Fortune. Steam was altequently got up in the Virginius, and the With the Dispatch, went to Tortugas, where they met the Oseipee and a coal chooner. Provisions will be transferred from the Oseipee and a coal chooner. Provisions will be transferred from the Oseipee to the Virginius, and what-shooner. Provisions will be transferred from the Ossipee to the Virginius, and whateve coal may be needed will be supplied by the schooner. When supplied with provisions and coal the Virginius will probably be schooner. When supplied with provisions and coal the Virginius will probably be sent to a northern port. Washington and forfolk are mentioned among the prize officer, much to the disappointment of some of the officers. The Federal Courts are now sariously looking out for her arrival. She will not enter the harhor of Key West at all appears orders to that effect having been received from Washington.

The Fortune proceeded to Key West, where she arrived at 4 o'clock this evening, with a dispatch to Admiral Scott giving a full account of the surrender. The members of the prize crews and the correspondent of the Tribune were the only witnesses of the surrender. Not a single person appeared on the bay, and not an inhabitant of the town of Bahiahnda or surrounding canaty felt sufficient interest in the proceeding to walk or sail to the scene. Some Americans presented themselves at the entrance of the harbor in a chartered vessel, in sot being provided with clearing papers and passports were stopped by a boat from the fort in their several attempts to enter the harbor and finally withdrew without witnessing the surrender.

SPEECH HON. ALEX. H. STEPHENS,

OF GEORGIA. on the Repeal of the Increased Con gressional Pay. Delivered in the House of Representatives of the United States, December 11, 1573.

of the press I would say nothing in derogation of its character, power and usefulness. The position of a journalist in this country is, in my opinion, one of the highest in the land. The "fourth estate" does in this age do a vast deal, and rightfully too, in the control of public sentiment; but I would in all earnestness say to the press and its conductors that nothing is more important than that in treating subjects for the masses of the people they should look well to the truth and correctness in principle of what they say.

Even parties journalists aboutd consider this well, for no permanent good can be effected by usring a false or unsound issue.

These remarks, as I have said, do not apply to me, for I was not here, but as a citizen of this great Federal deep interest in the dignity and character of this Congress of the two induspers of the Home, that when I came here; but I will have this induspers of the Home, that when I came here in the United States. In this assembly are the Representatives of the greatest peoples on earth, the guardians of the common American institutions—here, the professional services rendered this well, for no permanent good can be effected by usring a false or unsound issue.

The position of a journalist in this country to me, for I was not here, but as a citizen of this great Federal accordance of the Home, that when I came here; but I will have this induspers to the Home, that when I came here; but I will have the Bepresentative of the Georgia, and thus a citizen of this great Federal accordance of the Home, that when I came here; but I will have the Bepresentative of the Georgia, and thus a citizen of this great Federal accordance of the Home, that when I came here; but I will have the Bepresentative of the Georgia, and thus a citizen of this coagress of the great Federal accordance of the Home, that when I came here; but I will have the Bepresentative of the Georgia when I came here; but I will have a dealing like a principle with me.

I said that I would in all I said that I session. I believe that the Democracy, in proportion of votes, according to the analysis I have seen, are as much responsible for it as the Republicans. Perhaps some of our Republican friends at the time the bill was passed were a little shy—a little timid—anx—time to have the measure rass but at the same ious to have the measure pass, but at the same time not wishing to take what they deemed the risk of popular disfavor by voting in accordance with their personal convictions.

But, sir, to come at once to the gist of the morality of the act. The gentleman from New York [Mr. Tremaine] yesterday made the House, in fixing a salary of a member of the legislation of last session. some important admissions which cover the whole case. He admitted that by the Consti-tution of the United States each Congress for itself is empowered to fix the pay of its own itself is empowered to fix the pay of its own members. This, sir, is a wise provision of the Constitution, which the States, after its ratification, refused to change. This provision of the Constitution has been acted on from the beginning of this Government. Congress has repeatedly increased the psy, and at every such increase the back pay was considered as legitimate as the front pay. This the gentleman also admitted. This saves me from going into historic details. I therefore confine myself to principle. If it was not immoral to take it on all former occasions, how can it be on this? The principle is the same. Whenever the pay has been increased it was necessarily retroactive and extra. Were the men who did this thing in the last century and in the early part of this century, the brightest ornaments in our history for the brightest ornaments in our history for intellect, for talents and for virtue—were hey "salary grabbers?" Were they "thieves" and "robbers" for doing just what was their constitutional right to do?

Spanish war, it is related of him (whether correctly or not I do not know, but it illustrates the principle) that when he made up his "budget," his financial scheme for the next campaigo, (and Chatham was a man who, in the financial government of England, paid as he went, or provided a proper staking fund)—when, I say, this great statesman, or demaind the went, or provided a proper staking fund)—when, I say, this great statesman, or demaind the went, or provided a proper staking fund)—when, I say, this great statesman, or demaind the went, or provided a proper staking fund)—when, I say, this great statesman, or demaind the went, or provided a proper staking fund)—when, I say, this great statesman, or demaind the went, or provided a proper staking fund)—when, I say, this great statesman, or demaind the went, or provided a proper staking fund)—when, I say, this great statesman, or demaind the went, or provided a proper staking fund)—when, I say, this great statesman, or demaind the went, or provided a proper staking fund)—when, I say, this great statesman, or demaind the skilled labor. There is hardly a district in the United hat taxing of window-lights, which had never been resorted to before—he was uneasy. One then was, missed him, and asked where the absent member was?

The answer was, "O, it makes no difference whe her he is here or not; he is a fool, and his opinion amounts to nothing." "That is the very reason," replied the premier, "why I want him here, because the way he thinks and about this subject is the way, 't e majority of the machine statement of the duties of a member of the common of many journalists greatly exceeds it.

Now, sir, when you teach the people what government is, the science of government, in the United hat a state of the duties of a member of the duties

What, Mr. Speaker, is the motive power a desire for honorable position, with its attendants. It is the desire of a man not only to provide for himself, but for his family.

Now, sir, to return to the question before the House, in fixing a salary or a member of Congress, of a President of the United States, of the judges of the Supreme Court, and of all your diplomatic and foreign servants, the basis on which the whole should be placed is, as I have said the tendent of salary should as I have said, the standard of salary should ernment in all its departments should offer fair competition for the highest virtue and intelligence with all the other vocations in life. The youth of the country in selecting pursuits should not be driven from the po-litical field for want of those inducements offered by other kinds of employment. The political areas, with just compensation, af-fords the broadest, widest, and grandest field for intellectual action. With that view it is necessary that the Government should offer the highest inducement to skilled and brain labor in all its departments.
[Here the hammer fell.]

Mr. Kellogg. I ask that the gentleman from Georgia be allowed to proceed by unanimous content.

The Speaker. If there be no objection the tentleman from Georgia will proceed with its remarks.

her enterprises of this age of progress, as twill state another thing. It so happened that one of the last things I ever said upon this floor, fourteen years ago, was upon this metter of salary. It grew out of a debate on a proposition to increase the salary of the

The street of th

goue, or the statesman. The sham, the man who merely couris popular favor to get the spoils of office, feels the pulse of the people that he may know how to pander to the highest grades of skilled labor in the county batient's whims or caprices, giving him whatever he wants, even though he knows it may destroy him. He either does not care for the patient's real welfare, or does not know how to administer it.

Now, sir, of all the real statesmen who ever lived in England, Chatham was, perhaps, the first, the ablest; and there was not a man in England, from him down to John Wilkes, who gave more close attention to the popular feeling than he did. In one of England's greatest emergencies, during the spanish war, it is related of him (whether correctly or not I do not know, but it illustrates the principle) that when he made up his thingder? He figured the part of the principle is that the popular feeling than he made up his thingder? He figured the principle that when he made up his thingder? He figured the principle that when he made up his thingder? He figured the principle that when he made up his thingder? He figured the princi duce it. My own judgment is, that the unwisest part of the legislation of last Congress was the repeal of the franking privilege. One word upon that Ours is a government founded upon the enlightenment of the people. No represen-tative government can last, except where the understand its nature, are devoted t tial to the existence of all representative governments; in other word pend upon the virtue, the the patriotism of the people. Light, politi-cal light, they must have. The Constitution declares that our public proceedings, our journal, shall be published, or given to the

In the view laid down by all the most em inent writers on government, the first consideration with all is the proper division of aideration with all is the proper division of powers of the government, so as to make them independent of each other; that is, the legislative, the judiciary and executive; and and the very next one is that the people must be informed. Every avenue ought to be opened up so as to let in light to the people from every possible quarter. Let the man in his workshop, let the man at his plow, let the people—the honest, virtuous people of all classes—get all the light they can. Hence the franking privilege in my judgment the franking privilege, in my judgment ought not to have been repealed; and ough before in the same time. The mask as decamped, rut Martha Thrash has been stressed to await the result of the solutions and to elevate if need be, the sentiment of the model of the measure. That was not the solution of the model of the measure and the solution of the model of the measure and the solution of the model of the measure. Frominent among them are Saresparilla and Wild Cherry, so united as to act together; the one through its admixture with other substances, our folg and purging; while the other is strengthen, in the system. Thus these Pills are at the same time, a tonic and a cathertic, a desideratum long sought for by medical men, but never before discovered. In other words, they do the work of two medicanes and do it much better than any two we know of for they remove nothing from the system but impurities so that while they purge they also strengthen, and hence they cause no debility and are followed by no reaction.

Br. Tutt's Pills have a wonderful influence on the blood. They not only parify without weak ming it, buttle sy remove all mexices particles from the chyle before, it scovered, also faid, and thus make impure blood an utter impossibility. As there is no debilitation, so there is no nances or ankness at tending the operation of this most excellent medicine, which never strains or to itures the digestive organs, but causes them to work in a perfectly natural manner; hence persons taking them do not become pale and emaciated, but on the contrary, while all impurities are being removed, the combined action of the Surasparilla and wild Cherr; purfes and invigance the body, and a robust state of health is the result of their minted action. 180 bushels How College and harrols Molasses to ar-lve 50 barrels New Orleans Syrup or Molasses, new rop. Dr. Calhoun's Liver Pills. I AM engaged in the Manufacture of the Colobrated Family Medicina, known as the Collour Liver and Anti-Billous Fills, namer the supervision and sanistance of Dr. Cashous hissaelf. This Fill has been in use for the last thirty-dwe year, and has taken precedence over all other Year. Thousands would certify to their great value if necessary. One fact should superrede any amount of certificates, and that fact is this: Dr. Cashous has been physician to the Fulton County Prison for over seven years, when the number of prisoners, pages from 50 to 70, laboring under all the diseases incides to this climate. With but few exceptiones, they have all boom treated with the Pills and asconiability to say, during that long period not a solitary death of curred under his treatment. This fact is worth as amount of testimonials.

I am now prepared to fill orders from Dringstein.
